Telegraphic Summary-The Pagitive Slave

Case in Boston. We are happy in being able to inform our readers that the city of Boston is quiet, and that there is every reason to believe the law will take its course there, in reference to the case of the fugitive slave, Simms. The abolition fanatics appear to have used every expedient within the law, to harrass, annoy, and impede the authorities in the exercise of their sworn duty. They have resorted to the same discreditable methods for that purpose as were used in this city in the case of Long, by commencing suits at law against the Marshal, against 'the agent of the claimant of the fugitive slave, and against the witnesses who identified him, and holding them to bail in large amounts, on precisely the same grounds, and no doubt in as discreditable a manner, as we witnessed in this city a short time since. Similar suits were commenced here on the part of Long, but Long knew nething about them, and never authorized any such proceedings. His abolition friends, however, did a great portion of the swearing for him, and otherwise acted as if they were the identical fugitive who was claimed by his Southern master. It is to be hoped, however, that this trickery will result, as it did in this city, in nething. It appears that Judge Shaw has refused a writ of habeas corpus on the application of Simms, and gave his reasons for so doing. They will befound under our telegraphic head.

Notyrithstanding that a negro made an attempt to assemble the agent of the claimant of Simms, we have full belief that the peace of the city will not be disteshed, and that the fugitive will be dealt with according to law. It is to be desired that an exam be made of all who have committed any orenet, of the peace in this case, and that the de luded colored people of Boston be taught that if they follow the advice of such advisers as the fanatical Phillips and Garrison-by obstructing the officers of the law in the discharge of their dutythey shall pay the penalty. The secondrel at whose inclunee Marshal Tukey was held to bail on a pretended action for damages, and who attempted to knock down the agent of the owner of the fugitive slave, especially should be dealt with severely. If a few examples of this kind were made, the arder of both the black and the white negroes of Boston would be cooled.

Our returns of the election in Massachusetts are very imperfect. We have not heard of the returns a pay candidate, and it is not improbable that no chcice has been made in any of the districts.

The election for Governor and other State officers, Legislature and the four members of Congress, which took place jesterday, in Connecticut, was warmly contested, and appears from the returns repeived, to have resulted in favor of the democrats. Last year the democrate elected the Governor, and in the Legislature the free soil party held the babut generally favoring the democrats. They, howeer, refused to elect a regular democrat to the United States Senate, and so the election went over to this year.

At the last Congressional election, two years ago, three democrats were elected, and one whig. the three districts where the democrats succeeded they coalesced with the free soilers. In part of the State they now set with the Union men; in other sections with the free soilers.

The proceedings of the Legislature of this State yesterday were very interesting, as will be seen by our telegraphic report of them in another column.

Arrival of the Georgia-Twenty Days Later from California-Later from Havana.

The mail steamer Georgia, Lieut, D. D. Porter. commander, arrived at her dock early last evening, after a very short passage from Chagres, and in three days and eighteen hours from Havana. We have received full files of California newspapers from which we present interesting summaries and extracts. The news has come to us in thirty-one days, being the shortest time yet made between San Francisco and New York.

The condition of California is still highly pros perous. The drought continued, and apprehensions are entertained on account of it; but the gold diggings have yielded handsomely; and, as seven hun-dred and fifty thousand dollars had been entered for transportation down the Pacific, we may anticipate a large amount of gold by the arrival of the steamer Empire City, which may be expected to-morrow. Some new diggings have been discovered, and, despite the dry season, the yield of gold has been satisfactory.

The election of Senator has not been completed, and the subject has been postponed till the meeting of the Legislature, next January. The three enndidates were, Thomas Butler King, John B. Weller, and Col. J. C. Fremont. The latter appeared to have the least prospect of sbecess The final ballot presented twenty votes for Mr. King, eighteen for Mr. Weiler, and nine for Col. Fremont.

Several fires have occurred in California. That at Tobago island was a severe one, destroying two betels, and other property to a considerable amount.

Murders still occur occasionally, to shock the sensibilities of society, in California, and to indicate that the desperate and lawless, as well as the industrious and energetic of all nations, have contributed to swell the population of the new State. Lynch law has been resorted to in one or two cases, as the accounts elsewhere will more fully

The condition of the markets in California has not materially changed since our last advices. The newspapers of Havana represent everything as tranquil in the island, while one of our corresponderus gives us an account of rumors which agitate some portion of the population, and excite the activity of the government. The effect of the foolish rumors with respect to Lopez, it will thus be seen, is just what we have represented it to be, again and again. The probability is, that no attempt at an invasion is contemplated; and it is to be hoped that, after this, we may have no more such stories to distract the agreeable intercourse which our people are now holding with Cuba. Lopez could not find fifty Americans so desperate as to basard their seeks under his guidaned.

The Pugtetve Slave Law Jun portant Charge of Julye Remon.

We give in Iull, in our columns to day, the charge delivered by the Honorable Samuel Nelson, United States Circuit Judge for the Southern District of New York, to the Grand Jury empanelled under the laws of the United States, for inquiring into crimes and offences committed against the United

It is not often that we see a document so well entitled to deep and serious consideration by the pub. lie at large, and especially by such as have revorence for the constitution and laws of the country as this. It is a document which ought to be printed in letters of gold on pictures of silver, and exposed to public view in every place in the Northern States where people most do congregate, and in every on, coffee house, and private dwelling in the land. North and South. It is a document well calculated to bring the erring back to the path of duty-to convince them that in opposing the Fugitive Slave law, they dishonor, if not morally perjure, themselves, and that resistance to it strikes at the foundation of a compact based on integrity, sealed with honor, and which was intended to be consecrated by good faith on the part of the North. As has been well remarked by Judge Nelson, the constitution would never have been formed unless there was included in it the provison under which the Fugitive Slave law was framed. As we have repeatedly said, that law is no novelty. We have from the time of its passage to the present, declared it to be nothing more than a law declaratory of the act of Congress, of 1793, and approved by George Washington, the father of his country. Judge Nelson pronounces it a supplementary law. It is both declaratory and supplementary; but the man who cannot, or will not, see that it is constitutional, and no innovation of the organic law of the nation, is either a fanatic or a knave. The gist of the matter lies in a nutshell. Notwithstanding all the labored arguments that have been framed to prove that black is white, or that white is black, the question resolves itself into this: Shall we in the North abide by the constitution, or compact entered into by our fathers, or shall we regard that part of t only, which it is our interest to respect ! If Seward, Greeley and Weed's views of our constitutional duties and obligations are to be taken as orthodox, the people of the non-slaveholding States are to violate that part of the organic law which provides for the reclamation and extradition of fugitive slaves in the indulgence of what they assume to be a spirit of humanity. Now, if we in the North have the privilege of indulging in whims respecting the constitution and the laws, founded on abstractions and ignorance, why should not the same license be permitted to the South? Suppose, if we permitted to the South and to the North to construe the constitution and the laws passed under it, as each pleased, or as accorded with the fancy or inclination of either, what asses our ancestors must have been to "sign, seal, and deliver," in the most solomn manner possible, the Constitution of the United States! We have no doubt, however, that in the opinion of such rank, fungous, and most despicable demagagues of the day, such as Seward, Greeley, Weed, and their coknaves in political rascality, the delegates who attached their names to the constitution were asses. Let them do so. But the ass's skin will be stripped from those demagogues, and they may consider themselves fortunate if their hides escape a tanning during the operation. There is such a great demand upon our columns to-day, that we cannot find room for comment on the most sensible, most excellent, most patriotic, and most reasonable contents of this charge of Judge Nelson. Our readers will perceive on reading it that all of the subtle and disingenuous arguments that have been brought against the Fugitive Slave aw, by the horde of Greelevites, and Sewardites, and Weedites of the North, have been answered one by one, and the plain duty of law-abiding citizens pointed out, so that all who are not in their hearts and souls demagogues and traitors to the constitution, may rest assured that they only fulfill their duty as good citizens, and do no violence to their consciences, in upholding the Fugitive Slave law passed at the last session of Congress.

SPEED FROM CALIFORNIA-THANKS FOR LATE News .- We return our thanks to Colonel McLean, the energetic United States Mail Agent, to Gre gory & Co.'s express, to Elliott's express, and to the gentlemanly purser of the steamer Georgia, for their kindness in promptly delivering, at our office, late news from the Pacific, and for files of California papers. IMPORTANT COMMERCIAL DECISION .- We publish, n another column, a decision in the Supreme Court of the United States relative to the liability of Portuguese vessels to pay duty on cargoes imported into the United States, under the treaty of 1846. It is an important document, and worthy of general attention.

Very Late from Havana.

We have received by the steamship Georgia Captain Porter, advices from Havana to the 3d inst. Our files of he Diario de la Marina, Faro Industrial de la Habana, and Guesta de la Habana, are to the 1st of April.

The political news, as published in these papers, is without interest; the greatest tranquillity appears to prevail, and no mention is made in the papers of the runors of another invasion, which are the subject of a letter from one of our correspondents. The desertion of soldlers is not named, or any movement of the Cuban population. Every preparation has been made by the Captain General to repel an anticipated invasion, as our correspondent shows, and as we have verbally learned by

The United States steamer Saranae, Capt. Josiah Tatnell, bearing the broad penant of Commodore Parker sailed from Havana on the 3d of April, for Pensacolathe officers and crew in perfect health. The Ohio sailed A large number of American merchant ships were at

D. Jose de la Coneha, Governor General, had issued an order relative to the licenses for the distribution of lottery ckets in the streets. By this ordinance only those wil obtain that permission who are unable to work otherwise. The proclamation of the Governor General had been rewith great pleasure; and it is said that very soon other measures equally beneficial will be published by the government. A serious fire took place on the night of the 29th nit. at San Diegos de los Banos. Five or six houses were his satisfaction by renewed applause. OUR HAVANA CORRESPONDENCE.

Protection for Americans—Henry Clay—His Movements— Rumors—the Captain General, &c. There has not been a time, since you left here that there has been so much excitement about the expedition s at present. Every one talks of it, and every one add his little bit of surmise to what he has already heard. The report is that Lopez with some 2000 men. will very soon land. How he has been able to get up his expedi-tion—how he is to get away from the United States—how is to transport his troops-where and how he is to land—all sink, in the fertile imagination of the Cuban, before the grand fact, "He is coming"— El viene." It is probable the government have some information of a similar tendency-for measures of defence have been taken, and the greatest vigilance has been required. Companies of artillery have been detailed to the different forts along the coast; and a few days since, a circular was issued from the palace to the governors and sub-governors throughout the island, directing that they should see that their jeubordinates isi not flag in their watchfulness, and that after the 9th April, their exertions should be doubled. On the south tide of the island the fleet is kept almost constantly a ea, but here they are kept in port, in rendiness to sail at a moment's notice for any menaced point. Some one or other of the steamers are dispatched from time to time erafts are at their poets. I am told that Commodore Parker, in the Saranae, has delayed his departure quence of a conversation with the Captain General. there is likely to any, eivil disturbance here, it would not not not be part of the Commodore to have ship of some kind here all the time. The number Americans residing here, and the congregated America tomage in our ports, warrant some show of prolection from our squadron; for if Lopez does come with a force camposed inf part of Americans, or not, the irritation of the Spaniards against our country where the summer of the spaniar of the consideration who may or who may not be guilty. I do not suppose the government would commit any act—but what is the consideration of the Spaniar of the population of the city under the influence of their hatred and their feat. When the Cuban says "no country in America that he preclaimed its liberty has failed to establish it," the rop of the Spaniard is "here it shall be established only ruins and asker;" and it is matural that the first outbut of their fury should be directed against those whom the consider universally as aiders and abettors. We hope, our government have any certain knowledge of the public occurrence of an expedition, that they will a fail to send here a respectable representative of our nay force.

For the past two weeks the Hon. Henry Clay has been staying at Mrs. Alay's, in company with Dr. Mercer and his family, of New Orleans. He has made one short trip into the country to visit a coffice estate, and leaves by the Ohlo, for New Orleans. He appears to be in good health and excellent spirits, as seen in our streets and public places, smiling and chatting with all, with his usual affability. I am teld but few people have called on him, and do not doubt he enjoys this relaxation from the continued necessity to gaze upon strange faces. I have heard that very many Greoles wish to call, but refrain from doing sobceause they have no one to present them. These casual and not unfrequent visits from the Senators and politicians of the United States, are a subject of continued remark here; and the Cubans flatter themselves it is because of the new and important position their island is assuming in the eyes of the world. They firmly believe that every one who comes, goes away an annexationist.

A rumor was in circulation, a few days since, that firmly believe that every one who comes, goes away an annexationist.

A runor was in circulation, a few days since, that some ten or twelve people had been arrested under subjection of an attempt to effect a promachmente against the government, and borrible stories were told of what somebody in the West going to do in the way of a revolution; but the whole affair has passed off very quietly. It don't seem probable that a revolution is likely to commence very soon here, unless Lopes should really effect a landing with a respectable force. There is little or no organization, so far as I can learn, among the people, and the system of terrorism is so well carried out, that every one seems fearful of his own shadow. It is hardly possible for an American to conceive the distrust that exists among the people here, and it is the more to be regretted, as its natural counterpart in case of any change here will probably be a sanguinary cruelty.

A report was in circulation yesterday that the present Captain General is to be removed, and will be succeeded by General Allerbe. It is hardly probable however, that any one in Spain will venture to cross the Atlantic under an appointment by the present transition ministry there.

It is hardly probable however, t any one in Spain will renture to cross the Atlantic un an appointment by the present transition ministry the It is said that General Concha is dissatisfied, because does not find his propositions for an amelioration of a condition of the island received with sufficient favor home.

MONEY MARKET. Monday, April 7-6 P. M.

The upward movement in quotations for fancy stocks continues unabated. The market opened to-day very buoyant. Nearly every fancy in the list advanced, and ed at better prices. The sales of Harlem were large and closed firm at quotations. At the first board Canton Company went up 2 per cent; Farmers' Loan, 14; Edgeworth Company. 34; Norwich and Worcester, 134; Reading Railroad, 115; New Jersey Mining Company, 14; Eric Railroad, M; Hariem. 1. Canton Company has advanced fifteen per cent within the past three weeks, and the probability is that a re-action will soon be realized. We do not know what ideas holders of this stock can have of its actual value, who fall to realize at present prices. It is the most fluctuating security in the market, and is just as likely to tumble down ten per cent in one day, as to advance one per cent beyond current prices. It is now elling at eight per cent above par, which, for a nondividend paying stock, is a pretty good price, to say the least. Land stocks, however, have in fact no par value. When the property is well located, its value increases so rapidly, and the returns upon the in vestment are so great, that the actual par is regulated more by dividends than anything else. The sale of lots in Portsmouth, Ohio, the property of the Portsmouth Dry Dock Company, advertised for the 16th instant, has been postponed. The stock has not been much in the market lately, and parties have been purchasing quietly for the purpose of getting a supply to present in payment for lots, when the sale takes place. The advance in Edgeworth brings out very little stock. Holders gener-ally have so much confidence in its intrinsic value that hey will only part with it when there is a fair prospect of getting it in again at lower prices. It is our impres sion that this will ultimately be a second East Boston and its stock and scrip command equally high prices. All the railroad stocks are looking up, and will, without doubt, continue to improve, both in actual and market value. The New Jersey Mining Company is advancing rapidly in public estimation. It is estimated that this ompany have at least two hundred thousand tons of red zinc ore in their mines, above water level. Besides this rine ore, of which no other deposit is known to exist in this country, the company own a vein of franklinite, estimated to contain three hundred thousand tons. This of converting common bog iron ore into an iron suitable for all purposes of manufacture requiring toughness, which would be worth $60 to $70 per ton. Railroad bonds were inactive to-day, and but little was done in government or State stocks. The fancies monopolized the attention of speculators, and buyers on time were quite plenty. The bears were caught by over-selling short, and the bulls must be careful or they will ge caught by over-buying at high prices, and be compelled to sell at a decline. We warned the bears before the present appreciation commenced, against pressing the market too far, and advised them to withdraw and let the bulls have their way for a time. Those who followed our advice will thank us for giving it; those who did not, have already dearly paid for their folly.

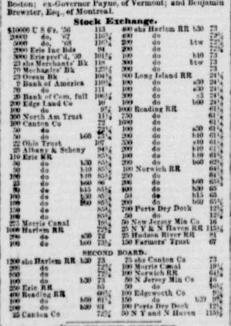

At the second board, prices current in the merning were well sustained. Harlem was active, and closed buoyant. The receipts at the office of the Assistant Treasurer of this port, to-day, amounted to $105,335 36; payments, $144,250 82-balance, $4,133,571 58. The Central Railroad Company, of New Jersey, have
